WEEK'S NEWS FROM MAUI.

prostrate in front of the court-house evidently very weak, as he did not have strength enough to ward off the flies that infested his swollen face. Mr. Ogg's side of the story is substantially as follows: While on his way to Wailuku to issue a warrant of arrest against four Che Foes who had assaulted a luma in the field that morning, he met the complainant on the way who held up Mr. Ogg's horse at the bidding of four other Che Foes who were quite a distance in the rear. Mr. Ogg finding himself in this predicament, alighted from his horse and went straight at the Che Foo a la Sharkey, and after laying up his opponent in short order, mounted his steed and galloped for Wailuku ere the other Chee Foo got to the rescue of their comrade. Had Mr. Ogg been less adroit than he was, his face would have been an easy prey for his pursuers. Trial will come off next Wednesday.

A hop will take place at the court-house, Wailuku, on the evening of the 28th inst., it being a celebration in honor of the birthday of Mrs. W. G. Scott, the estimable wife of the deputy sheriff of Maui.

Cost of living on Maui is steadily on the increase. A bag of rice is sold at retail for $6.75 while pork dressed for market six pounds for a dollar. But pigs are bought at wholesale at the Kula districts for 64 cents per lb. Meat is ten cents per lb. but there is a likelihood of it going up to 15cts. per lb. Carcasses, however, are sold at wholesale from 8 to 10 cts. per lb. according to quality. Eggs sold $2.00 per hundred. Fresh fish are a rarity at Wailuku except on Saturdays when never-failing Ross brings over a load of Molokai mullet from Lahaina, and they are sometimes so old that it would cause Inspector Keliipio to condemn a whole lot as he has often times done at the Honolulu market. Occasionally the Kahului fishermen bring deep sea fish for the Wailuku market and when they come they always find ready buyers. Poi is however cheap, that is, it can be had for one half the Honolulu price. Other staple articles are sold at prevailing prices. To order for fancy groceries from Honolulu is considered a luxury, because of the fearful rates of transportation. A Wailuku young lady recently received a box of 25 cent candies from her Honolulu friend, and it cost her 65 cents for freight alone, and of course the candies were appreciated the more on account of the rise in value to a 90 cent box, and the young lady is said to have written to her Honolulu friends not to be so lavish in their attentions to her by sending such costly candies. Wailuku candies are good enough for her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Castle, who have been the guests of Manager and Mrs. Lowrie of Spreckelsville for a few days, return to town per Claudine this afternoon.

The steamer Lehua did not put in an appearance at Kahului this week consequently the Claudine will take the 750 paia for the leper settlement this afternoon, and will not touch at Lahaina.

District Magistrate McKay and Deputy Sheriff Scott, both of Wailuku will leave for Honolulu this afternoon. The former goes in connection with the Nabiku road contract while the latter goes in charge of four insane people to be placed in the asylum. Mr. Scott also takes with him a specimen of his raw silk for exhibition in Honolulu. The silk threads were unwoven from cocoons and if spread out cover a distance of nearly thirty miles. Mr. Scott expects to receive the report of the San Diego expert in the shipment of 1000 cocoons exported by him early this month for the sole purpose of obtaining expert opinion on the advisability of silk culture on Maui.

One of Wailuku's oldest residents takes pride in the fact that he declined an offer made to him years ago to take up 100 shares of H. C. & S. Co. stock for ten cents per share. He abhors stock gambling.

W. E. Bal who is putting up the new rock crusher for Makawao and Wailuku districts, says that he will complete his task in a few days. The roller is a 6-ton one while the engine is of 15 horsepower. It will be first experimented with on the road to Makawao via Spreckelsville.

Rev. J. M. Lewis will preach at the Wailuku Foreign church tomorrow morning. Rev. Mr. Ault will come over to Wailuku next Sunday, 22nd inst.

Kahului Shipping.

Wailuku, April 15.—The big American bark Carleton, 1700 tons, arrived last Saturday afternoon in ballast after a passage of 47 days from Hongkong. When she entered the harbor the weather was squally and the sea choppy at the time, and longshoremen were anxious as to her safety for she was blown almost to the western entrance of the harbor. She will load sugar at this port for New York.

The schooner Ida McKay arrived at Kihai last Tuesday with a cargo of lumber from Aberdeen, Washington. On Wednesday the skipper rode over to Kahului and made the entry at the custom house.

There is a foreign schooner now unloading cargo at Hana.

The Am bk Haden Brown cleared today for San Francisco with 15 200 bags of sugar weighing about 950 tons. The brig Lurline and schr Ruby Cousins will likely leave for the Coast with cargoes of sugar tomorrow (Sunday.)

Do you like to drink pure whiskey? Then if you do call for "A. A." Jesse Moore at any of the saloons. Lovejoy & Co., distributors for the Hawaiian Islands.

The two-year-old son of W. L. Furgason, of Bolton, Miss., had whooping cough. "After several physicians had prescribed for him, without giving relief," writes Mr. Furgason, "I persuaded my wife to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first dose had the desired effect, and in forty-eight hours he was entirely free from all cough. I consider your remedy the best in the market, especially for children and recommend it at all times." 50 cent sizes for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., General Agents.
